

Khristian Lloyd Photography

Posted by Mr.Moo - 08 Apr 2011 22:09

Here's a couple of links to my photography business.

Not all my works uploaded to Facebook i.e. studio stuff, but all outdoor stuff and my Macro work is on there, feel free to browse =]

P.s.

No stealing the photos! 🙏

Oh and its called Khristian Lloyd as Marek Griffiths Photography doesn't sound as modern/posh as Khristian Lloyd :p

It's sort of a home business at the moment but doesn't bring in much as I don't have a studio, but I get about 4-5 photoshoots a month which brings in a couple of hundred so im doing alright I guess.

I'd like it to bloom so I could live off it basically as im passionate about photography hehe ;p

Nice work Moo, I'm also a photography lover, I don't do it for the money, its for fun only 🐮

You can watch my gallery at luisantunes.pt, also on www.panoramio.com/user/5157082 and gigapan.org/profiles/35067/

I have an array of sony cameras (p150, h9, alpha 350, 580 and in a few months a full frame 900 with around 10 different lenses, panoramic head, robotics and assorted stuff 🐮

Your pictures look pretty nice, keep up the good work!

Seems expensive to me 😊

Yeah it is expensive hehe, I absolutely love photography and if I had the money or a full time job (Career) I'd do it for fun only too but I need some sort of income :p

Nice array of camera's! I'm really really after the Canon EOS 7D or the 5D, sexy SLRs!

Im using the olympus series at the moment e-410, e-460 etc, got all the kit like flash guns n stuff.

Supa; Yeah, expensive is an understatement.. the Canon 5D on it's own is about £1,200 (without a lense) then the lenses can range from £200 to £2,600 each. :/
