Adobe Acrobat
Posted by DreamState - 23 Apr 2009 09:47

_____

Interesting article about F-Secure recommending dropping Adobe Reader and using open-source alternatives.

it.slashdot.org/article.pl?sid=09/04/22/222237" onclick="window.open(this.href);return false;

The alternatives are listed here ...

pdfreaders.org/" onclick="window.open(this.href);return false;

==

Re: Adobe Acrobat
Posted by slaB - 23 Apr 2009 14:29

_____

That is scary, I'm gonna change 😊

==

Re: Adobe Acrobat
Posted by Greenie - 23 Apr 2009 20:49

_____

Adobe Reader sucks... This keeps happening just because they insist on jamming in scripting, video and everything else under the sun...

www.pdfreaders.org/" onclick="window.open(this.href);return false; has some good OSS ones for any switchers..

I tend to use okular on my PC, but sumatra on random ones.

KDE is annoying to install on windows just for that 😊

==

==