

buying iphone 3gs (online)

well, due to my late acquisition, in ipod nano 5g with camera, great great great product, 6 stars on 5.

enough babality 🙄

So I don't know why, started looking around for iphone 3gs, well, the apple online store, where I bought the ipod (personalized with my nick [TuNeS]), cool heh, does not sell the iphone, funny, went to ebay.com/.co.uk/.de and none to be found, the ebay.de gives an error... go figure...

The only "legal" place where I found the unlocked phone was amazon... for the modest ammount of... 750€ the 16Gb and around 1000€ for the 32gb... WHAT?!?!?!?!?!?

So, went to vodafone.pt and they have it for a 50 month plan for 274€, tmn and optinus also give similar plans, all portuguese operators, my preference is vodadone. i'm client for around 15 years already on the same number, so, a 50 month plan means nothing to me.

As if writing, checked out orange on the uk, and cheapest plan on 18 months, gives 540£, ouch!

So, for what matters, looks like the only way to get one "legally" is getting it through a provider, unlocked.. geeeee

Not that I am a tech freak, but really gave spin on the iphone and found it to do anything better and faster than any other. besides the silly ammount of entertainment the damned thing does. and i'm a fan of Nokia, prolly cause was the second brand I had after the Motorola 8w 4kgs mobile phone 🙄

Prolly next year or around xmas I will make a decision on it... or stick with my anccient phones (the nokia 6230 and 6680 for two operators)

Then again, if someone is looking for a mp3 player, get one of these, ok, it costs a bit, but worth every penny!

EDIT: well, ebay.de is not freaked out, but some ebays are atm, the same, regular unlocked iphones, 750 to 1150€... 🤔

It won't go to far from the amazon price, the 32gb goes to 800€ with VAT (20%) I don't know much in belgium vat charge is, here is 20%.

The damned this is really really expensive as hell...

On the other hand, macbooks sport high specs, high build quality and the price is quite reasonable... weird commercial tactics 🙄
